E. S. Reeves, of Longpine, spent Monday in town.

P. Deery was over from Rosebud on business Monday.

G. W. Burge and son were in from Mass the first of the week.

WANTED—Fresh milk cow with calf. Enquire at this office.

A. H. Tingle went from here to Gordon on last night's passenger.

Walter Shreve and H. B. Clapp were up from Rosebud last Monday.

O. P. Billings, populist candidate for the legislature was in town Saturday.

Rev. Bassett, of Norden, preached at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning.

Mrs. Finson, of Creighton, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. R. Watson, this week.

A billiard room is being fitted up across the hall from THE DEMOCRAT office.

M. S. Carlisle and D. L. McHardie were over from Rosebud, Monday, on business.

Jas. F. Cross and May Hadden are among the Rosebud visitors in town this week.

Dr. W. R. Ely, republican candidate for state senator will speak here Saturday night.

County Superintendent Lillian U. Stoner is in the west part of the county on business.

There are two populist papers in Cherry county and each claims to be the only one.

C. E. Barker, father of W. S. Barker of the Republican, is visiting his son this week.

New sidewalks are being in Valentine, badly. What's the matter with having them?

State bank examiner Ben. R. Gowdery, and wife, of Lincoln, were in the city yesterday.

Mrs. Jesse West returned to Wood Lake last Friday evening after visiting friends here.

Born, Sunday night, October 18, to Mr. and Mrs. Hobson, a fine pair of twins, both girls.

WANTED—Wood on subscription. Dry, hard wood preferred. Call early and avoid the rush.

J. C. Pettijohn spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives and friends at Longpine and Newport.

Val Nicholson received two hound pups from Gordon Monday, and is getting ready for the coursing season.

The largest and best line of cloaks and capes ever shown in Valentine will be found at T. C. Hornby's.

The editor of this paper spent Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Longpine, on account of the death of his cousin, Alta Good.

Walter Hare has been much worse this week, his ailment, gastritis and catarrh of the stomach, having taken a serious turn.

Stanley Ray came down from Chadron Tuesday morning and went over to Rosebud school, where he has secured a position.

J. B. Lord, E. A. and C. W. Bennett came up from Simeon Tuesday with a small bunch of cattle, returning home yesterday.

James Wellford returned from Rosebud Tuesday morning, the U.S. allotting party with which he has been working, having almost completed its work.

Publisher's Notice.

In order to introduce THE VALENTINE DEMOCRAT into homes where it does not now go regularly, this publisher will upon receipt of one dollar send the paper to new subscribers from now until January 1, 1898. This offer is unprecedented for a paper of the size and quality of THE DEMOCRAT, and if you are not now on the list this is the time to send in your name with a dollar.

C. R. Glover will divide the time with Dr. Ely, Saturday night.

The water pipes to supply the west part of town are being laid, and soon residents in that section of the city will have cause for rejoicing.

D. H. Thurston is stumping the west part of the county this week. His energy in working for the county attorneyship is making him lots of friends.

Queer isn't it, that Dr. S. G. Glover is a candidate for state superintendent on the gold star ticket, yet unlike his brother C. J. is for Bryan this last and all the time?

H. G. Lyon, of the Gordon Journal, was been laid up with an injured knee, the result of trying to move his tank. This refers to a water tank which he is erecting on his premises.

The W.C.T.U. will have a parlor meeting for married people at the residence of Mrs. Geo. H. Hornby Tuesday evening, October 27, commencing at 7:30. Light refreshments will be served.

David Leach was in town from Wood Lake Tuesday transacting business with Dr. Nicholson. Although bothered with an aching molar he found lots of time to talk for Bryan and free silver.

Wm. Seabury, who has been ill here for some time with typhoid fever, was removed to his home at Crookston last Saturday, his condition being so much improved that it was thought advisable to take him home.

How the Dipper Saved the Farm.
Father was sick and the mortgage on the farm was coming due. I saw in the Christian Advocate where Miss A. M. Fritz of Station A, St. Louis, Mo. would send a sample combined dipper for two cent stamps and I ordered one. I saw that the dipper could be used as a fruit jar filler, a plain dipper, a fine strainer, a funnel, a straw funnel, a sick room warming pan and a put measure. These eight different uses make the dipper such a necessary article that I went to work with it and it sold at very near every house, and in four months I paid off the mortgage. I think I can clear as much as $200 per month. If you need work you can do well by giving this a trial. Miss A. M. Fritz, Station A, St. Louis, Mo., will send you a sample for 18 two cent stamps. Write at once. JOHN G. N.

The Reward is Paid.

One more chapter in the cattle stealing case of Case, Stephenson and Strong, can now be written. The $200 reward offered for the capture of the thieves by J. W. Stetter, has been paid in full to W. F. A. Meltendorf. This example of Mr. Stetter if a good one, and should be followed by other stockmen in similar cases. The prisoners are still in jail and getting along nicely under the charge of Amos Strong and H. Razez.

Thirteen and Ten Years Ago.

The following items are taken from the Valentine Reporter of Oct. 25, 1883:

Democratic convention was held and W. R. Towne was nominated for judge. —Republicans nominated F. H. Warren for county judge. —Six inches of snow fell Oct. 22. —School commenced. From the Democratic Blade of Oct. 22, 1886:

On the 126th ballot J. P. Wood was nominated for representative from this district. —Nobody knew in what representative or senatorial district the county was in. —Postoffice building was being completed. —Man named Fox was arrested for cattle stealing.

ENTHUSIASTIC

CROWDS GREET HON. W. L. GREENE AND AL TINGLE.

Despite the Efforts of Brass Bands and Republican Speakers—Another Campaign Lie Refuted—Tingle Answers Tucker.

The situation in this the Sixth Congressional district has at no time been complex or in doubt. The next Congressman from this district will be W. L. Greene, of Kearney—Bill Greene if you wish, because he is a man who is never bothered by abuse, ridicule or any of the common-weapons used to terrify the candidate for office.

The fight being made for congress by Greene and Cady is unique. Cady talks tariff and Greene carefully confines himself to finance; Cady talks of the old soldier and Greene says "free silver." Cady appeals to the local prejudices of voters by promising whatever is asked, while Greene continues on the money question. These two men recognize the fact that the question of money is the all important one in this campaign, and while Cady evades the issue, Greene plunges into it boldly. This district is admittedly for the free coinage of silver, and that fact alone insures Greene's election.

W. L. Greene spoke here last Friday. The afternoon meeting was held in Cornell Hall, and the audience was a large one, exceeding in size that which turned out to hear the three big republicans, MacColl, Cady and Tefft. The meeting was presided over by L. C. Sparks, president of the Bryan Club. Mr. Greene spoke for more than two hours and awakened lots of enthusiasm. The republicans had secured the hall for the evening, so Mr. Greene spoke in the Presbyterian church. J. Wesley Tucker and W. H. Horton addressed the McKinley Club. This precipitated a contest as to which could draw the biggest crowd. The McKinley people hired the 12th Infantry band and prepared to take care of an immense audience, but the audience could have been accommodated in a much smaller room than Cornell hall. Over at the church a different scene was enacted. After listening to republican music while the people went to hear Greene. They filled all the seats, and more were brought in. These were filled and then the latecomers stood up. Enthusiasm was unbounded, and the speaker was at least twenty-five times compelled to stop on account of the applause. M. Christensen, democrat, presided. And of this grand demonstration a certain idiotic nincompoop in this city who takes pleasure in displaying his animosity upon every possible occasion, wrote to the State Journal:

* * * He was unable to secure the hall for an evening oration, but he finally succeeded in securing the Presbyterian church and entertained a few people who were unable to secure standing room at the meeting of the McKinley and Hobart club, * * * and from present indications Bill Greene has done a great deal towards helping republicans out in this county as the street was strewn with Bryan buttons having been thrown away by the silver men after hearing Greene. As a liar the man who wrote the foregoing stands in a class by himself. Messrs. Tucker and Horton managed to keep their audience in good humor, but unfortunately Mr. Horton had an attack of heart-failure and was compelled to leave the hall.

Hon. A. H. Tingle, of Butte, Boyd county, this state, addressed our people last night, the meeting, which was an exceedingly large one, being presided over by Robert Good. Mr. Tingle is an old line republican, and claims he has never deserted the party—that the party made a square turn and he kept going straight ahead. The speaker was once interrupted by Judge Tucker and received a red hot reply for his pains. Tingle spoke for an hour, and at the close of his address the chairman gave Judge Tucker a chance to talk, and for a few moments questions and answers flew thick and fast, and Judge Tucker was vanquished.

And McKinley still continues to talk platitudes about tariff and never answers questions on any other subject. One day recently he made twenty speeches, and in none of them was there a bright or original thought.

Married.

Saturday morning one of Cherry county's old residents, J. J. Steen, from west of Browlee, took unto himself a wife, in the person of Miss Eva Dunlop, of New York. The bride arrived in town Friday night, the ceremony was performed next morning and the happy couple departed for their home on Steen's ranch the same afternoon. The bride is a charming young lady and will no doubt make life a paradise for Mr. Steen in the future.

Editor's Cousin Dead.

At the home of her mother in Longpine, last Friday afternoon, Alta Leo Good aged 15 years and 6 months, died of typhoid fever, after not quite two weeks illness. The editor was called to her bedside by a telegram, Friday morning, but death claimed its prize before he reached Longpine. Coming so soon after the death of her father, J. E. B. Good, the blow is doubly hard for Mrs. Good to bear, and she has added need for the sympathy of the friends of the deceased editor.

Valentine Teacher's Association.

Music in the schools—Principles or songs? Belle Callen Music.

Women Against Corbett.

This paper is in receipt of a copy of the resolutions recently passed by the resolutions by the Chadron Equal Suffrage Society, and is sorry that lack of space prohibits their publication entire. The resolutions are signed by Mary Smith Hayward president and Pheme Mason, secretary, and the following extracts show their import:

Resolved that we as a body will do all in our power to urge every voter regardless of politics to do all they can to prevent the election of Henry W. Corbett the republican nominee for State Superintendent of Public Instruction.
Do you want a man who murdered one of best teachers and two innocent babes to stand at the head of education and be a model for our teachers, our boys and our girls of the great state of Nebraska?

Oxnard Paid the Freight.

Last Tuesday a special train of four cars was run from Chadron to Norfolk and about 250 invited guests took a trip to the beet sugar factory at the latter place. Everything was free and everyone enjoyed himself, but owing to delay on the road only about two hours' time was given at the factory. Cherry county sent a good delegation consisting of the following persons:

Chas Roberts	J A Hornback
J C Thackery	Resin Wilson
Andy Wilson	L H Sawyer
—Torsion	R Hansen
Chas Hoffman	L D Lincoln
L H Perkins	C H Cornell
Frank Seager	H Green
C W Cramer	L E Stuart
N Polen	D Alder
W A Pettycrew	J L Ballard
Robt Robinson	C A Johnson
G H Hornby	W Honey
W S Jackson	C M Bailly
O W Hahn	C A Barnes
M Wyma	G Bakewell

The object of this trip is a mooted question, but it was given out that Oxnard wishes to establish two more sugar factories on this line of road and wished the farmers to become interested in the beet sugar industry. No matter what the object was, the boys all had a good time free of expense. The trip was probably intended to impress the visitors with the importance of the sugar factory, and the necessity of paying a bounty on home-produced sugar. If that was it, no good was accomplished, as the people are firmly opposed to class legislation—the taxing of the poor to help the rich. Further developments are eagerly awaited.
